

Then Isaac prayed that God would bless his son with plenty of food and prayed that nations would honour him and his brothers serve him. God's promises to Abraham and Isaac now went to Jacob.

8

Then Isaac prayed that God would bless his son with plenty of food and prayed that nations would honour him and his brothers serve him. God's promises to Abraham and Isaac now went to Jacob.

8

Jacob Tricks His Father

By Jill Kemp
Illustrated by Richard Gunther

1

Jacob Tricks His Father

By Jill Kemp
Illustrated by Richard Gunther

1

Isaac was old and blind and it was time to pass the promise of blessing God gave to his father Abraham, down to his eldest son Esau, before he died. He sent a servant to find him.

2

"Here is the meat you love Father," said Jacob.
"You sound like Jacob," Isaac answered.
"Come near so I can smell your clothes and feel if you are hairy like Esau."

7

Isaac was old and blind and it was time to pass the promise of blessing God gave to his father Abraham, down to his eldest son Esau, before he died. He sent a servant to find him.

2

"Here is the meat you love Father," said Jacob.
"You sound like Jacob," Isaac answered.
"Come near so I can smell your clothes and feel if you are hairy like Esau."

7

“Put on your brother’s clothes and put these hairy skins on your hands and neck so you will feel and smell like Esau,” Rebekah told him.

6

“Take your bow and arrow and go hunting. I want you to cook me some of your tasty venison stew to eat, before I pray and bless you,” Isaac told Esau.

3

“Put on your brother’s clothes and put these hairy skins on your hands and neck so you will feel and smell like Esau,” Rebekah told him.

6

“Take your bow and arrow and go hunting. I want you to cook me some of your tasty venison stew to eat, before I pray and bless you,” Isaac told Esau.

3

Rebekah, Jacob and Esau's mother, heard Isaac talking. She wanted her favourite younger twin son Jacob to get the blessing and made a plan to trick her husband.

4

"I will make your father's favourite meal for you to take in and get Esau's' blessing," she said.
"But my brother is hairy and my skin is smooth. He will know it is me and be very angry," Jacob replied.

5

Rebekah, Jacob and Esau's mother, heard Isaac talking. She wanted her favourite younger twin son Jacob to get the blessing and made a plan to trick her husband.

4

"I will make your father's favourite meal for you to take in and get Esau's' blessing," she said.
"But my brother is hairy and my skin is smooth. He will know it is me and be very angry," Jacob replied.

5