

Can I help Missionaries too?

By Jill Kemp

Illustrated by Richard Gunther

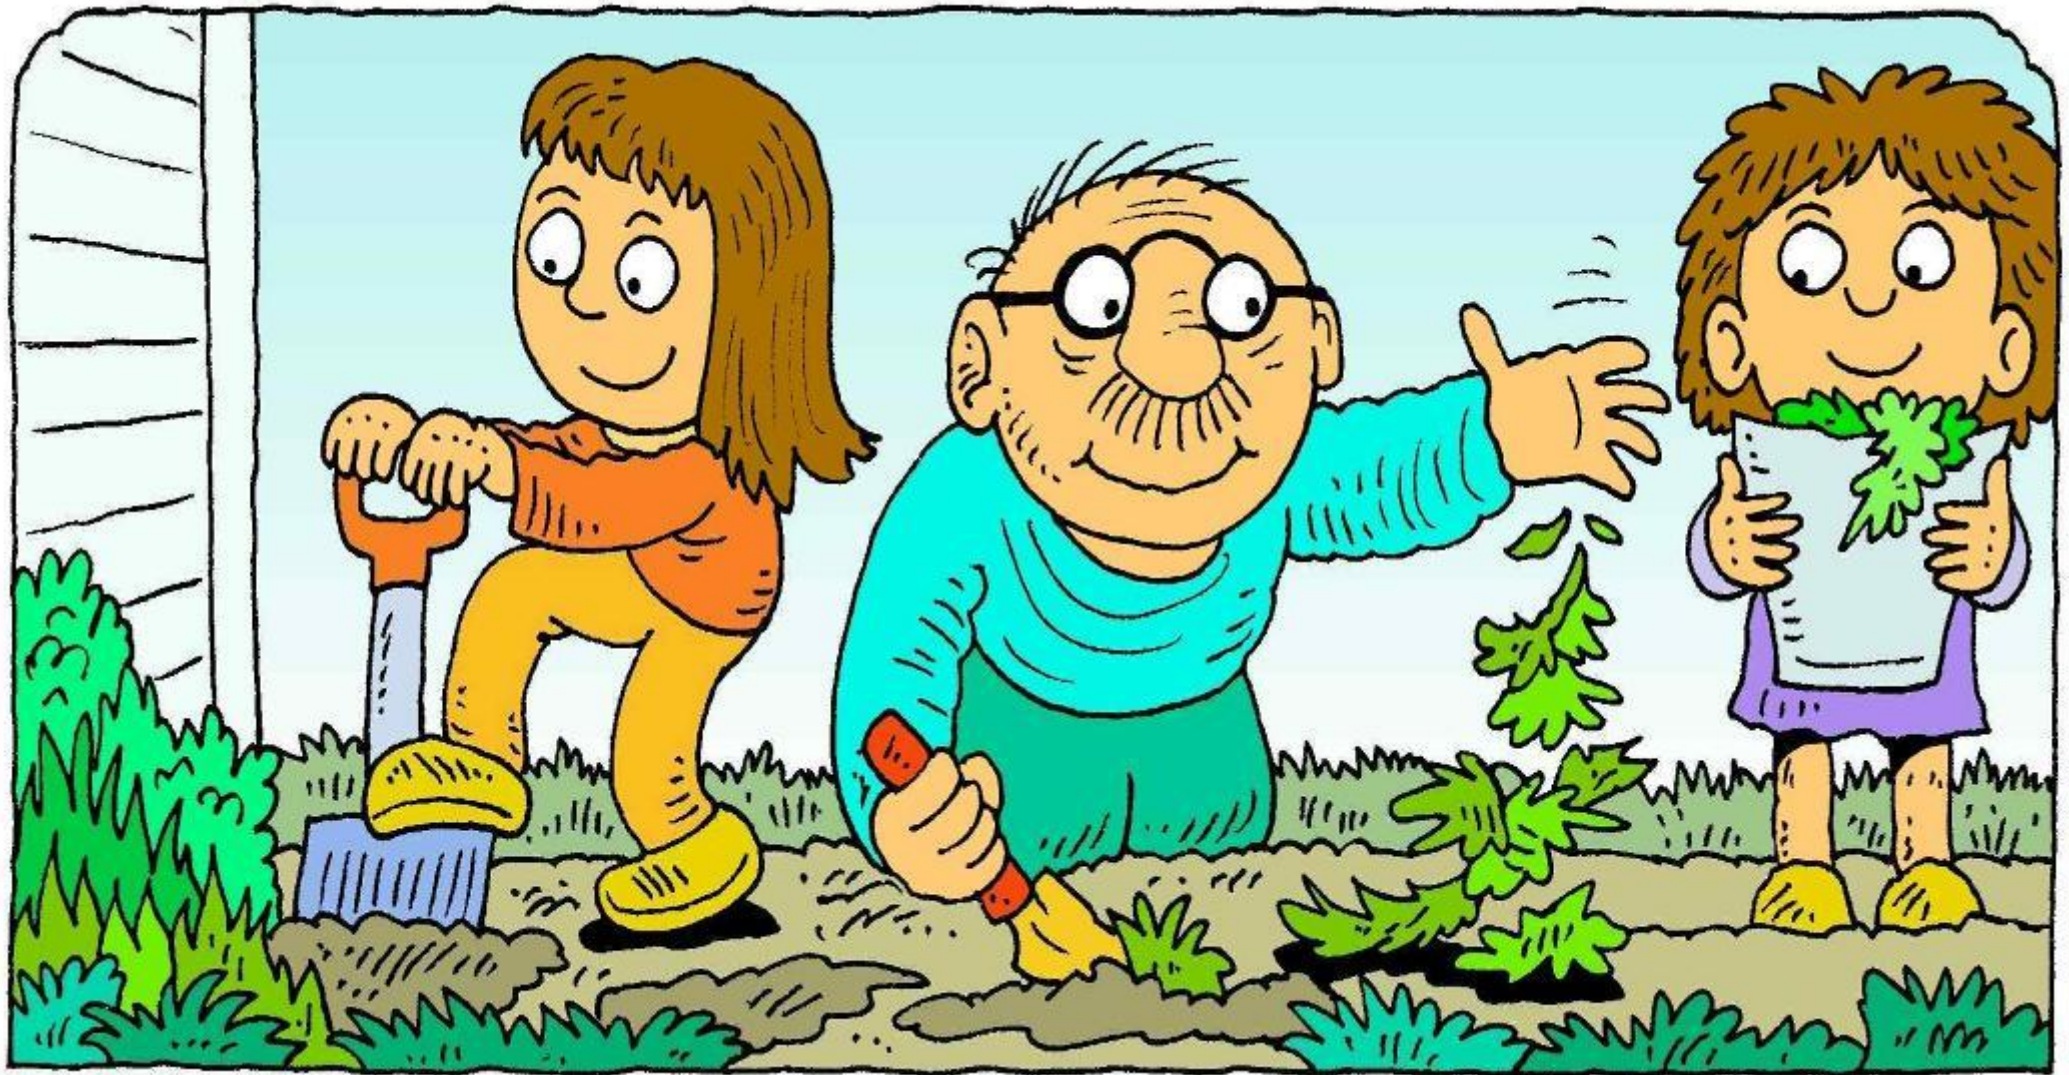

Our teacher shows us
countries in the world where the people need our help
because they are sick and hungry.

We get boxes to put money in for missions.
It will go to help them.
Can I help too?

I can do some jobs for our mother.
I helped carry her shopping.
She gave me some pocket money for helping.

The old man next door
needed help in his garden
digging and weeding.
I can help him too!

I earned some money
for missions by washing
the car. It was hard work,
but I did a good job.

I tidied my bedroom and emptied the rubbish bin. I worked hard and my mother said I did a good job. She gave me my pocket money.

Even a child can help missionaries.
Jesus wants us to care for and help people in other countries.
Yes, I can help too!
