

"I am just a man like you," he said.
"I believe the one, true, living God
sent his son Jesus, to save me.
God alone has kept me safe."

Paul And The Snake

By Jill Kemp
Illustrated by Richard Gunther

"I am just a man like you," he said.
"I believe the one, true, living God
sent his son Jesus, to save me.
God alone has kept me safe."

Paul And The Snake

By Jill Kemp
Illustrated by Richard Gunther

The boat taking the prisoner, Paul,
to Rome was shipwrecked.
Everyone got safely to shore through the stormy seas and heavy rain.

2

When Paul didn't die from
the poisonous snake bite,
the people decided that Paul
must surely be a god himself!

7

The boat taking the prisoner, Paul,
to Rome was shipwrecked.
Everyone got safely to shore through
the stormy seas and heavy rain.

2

When Paul didn't die from
the poisonous snake bite,
the people decided that Paul
must surely be a god himself!

7

Everybody waited for Paul to die.
They thought that God must be angry
with him and had made a storm
and sent a snake to kill him.

6

They found wood to make a fire
to warm and dry themselves.
Paul helped gather sticks too,
in the pouring rain.

3

Everybody waited for Paul to die.
They thought that God must be angry
with him and had made a storm
and sent a snake to kill him.

6

They found wood to make a fire
to warm and dry themselves.
Paul helped gather sticks too,
in the pouring rain.

3

He didn't see a poisonous snake, called a Viper, hiding in the sticks. The poisonous snake bit Paul on his hand and hung on tight.

4

Paul shook the snake into the fire and prayed that God would protect him from the poisonous snake venom, that would kill him.

5

He didn't see a poisonous snake, called a Viper, hiding in the sticks. The poisonous snake bit Paul on his hand and hung on tight.

4

Paul shook the snake into the fire and prayed that God would protect him from the poisonous snake venom, that would kill him.

5