

They ran straight back to Jerusalem to tell all Jesus' friends they had seen Jesus, and everything he had told them that was written about Him in the Bible.

On The Road To Emmaus

By Jill Kemp

Illustrated by Richard Gunther

After Jesus had died on the Cross, all his friends were sad. They didn't understand that it was all part of God's wonderful plan!

They ran straight back to Jerusalem to tell all Jesus' friends they had seen Jesus, and everything he had told them that was written about Him in the Bible.

On The Road To Emmaus

By Jill Kemp

Illustrated by Richard Gunther

After Jesus had died on the Cross, all his friends were sad. They didn't understand that it was all part of God's wonderful plan!

Two friends were walking home
along the road to Emmaus feeling sad.
While they had been in Jerusalem
Jesus had died on the cross.

2

Then the stranger disappeared!
Jesus had broken the bread,
thanking God like that! They knew
they had seen Jesus! He was alive 7

Two friends were walking home
along the road to Emmaus feeling sad.
While they had been in Jerusalem
Jesus had died on the cross.

2

Then the stranger disappeared!
Jesus had broken the bread,
thanking God like that! They knew
they had seen Jesus! He was alive

7

When they got to their house they invited the stranger in for a meal. He took the bread, broke it and thanked God that Jesus had died for them.

6

The men and their friends had thought that Jesus was God's promised Son. Now some of Jesus' friends had said that Jesus had risen from the dead!

3

When they got to their house they invited the stranger in for a meal. He took the bread, broke it and thanked God that Jesus had died for them.

6

The men and their friends had thought that Jesus was God's promised Son. Now some of Jesus' friends had said that Jesus had risen from the dead!

3

While they were talking, a stranger began to walk with them. "Why are you so sad?" he asked. "All these things are written in the Bible."

4

The stranger told them how everything that had happened to Jesus was part of God's plan. His words gave them hope.

5

While they were talking, a stranger began to walk with them. "Why are you so sad?" he asked. "All these things are written in the Bible."

4

The stranger told them how everything that had happened to Jesus was part of God's plan. His words gave them hope.

5