

NAAMAN and the servant girl

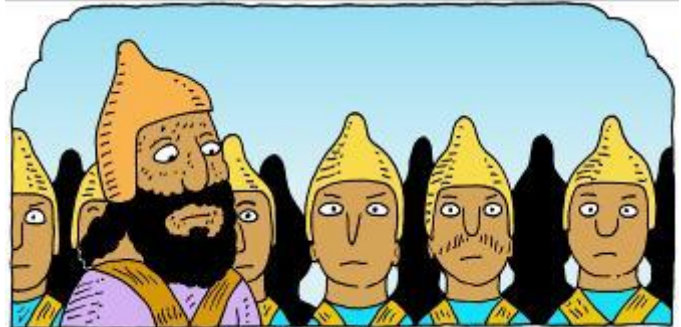

Print Free: www.lambsongs.co.nz

By Jill Kemp

Illustrated by Richard Gunther

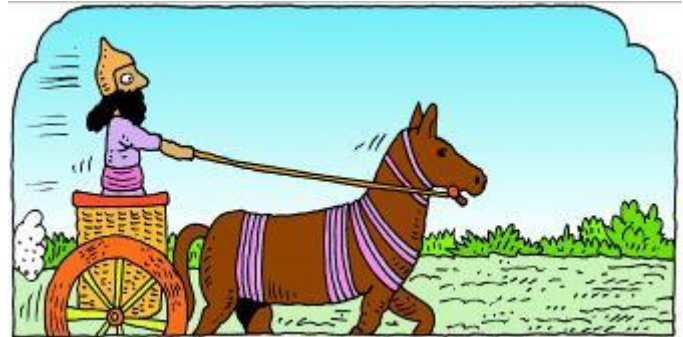

It was just a little servant girl who told her master about God. Wherever you are YOU can tell the good news about God's love.

Naaman was in charge of the army of Syria and was a very important man, but he had leprosy sores on his skin, which not even the best doctor could fix.

Naaman's little servant girl said to her mistress, "If only my master Naaman would go and see Elisha, the man of God, in Samaria, then God would make him get well again."

Naaman heard that there was someone who could make him better and he decided to go and find the man of God, even though Naaman didn't know God for himself.

When he knocked on Elisha's door only a servant came out with a message. "Elisha said, you must go and wash seven times in the river Jordan."

Naaman was annoyed because Elisha didn't come out and talk to him. "We have better rivers in my country," he said. "Washing in your little river will never fix leprosy!"

But, he decided to do what the man of God said. The more he washed, the more the leprosy disappeared, until his skin was like brand new! Naaman knew that God had healed him.

Naaman wanted to tell his family and friends how God had healed him. God wants us to listen and obey. God words set us free.